

The post-Corona crisis: A momentum for constructing the Una Europa virtual campus?

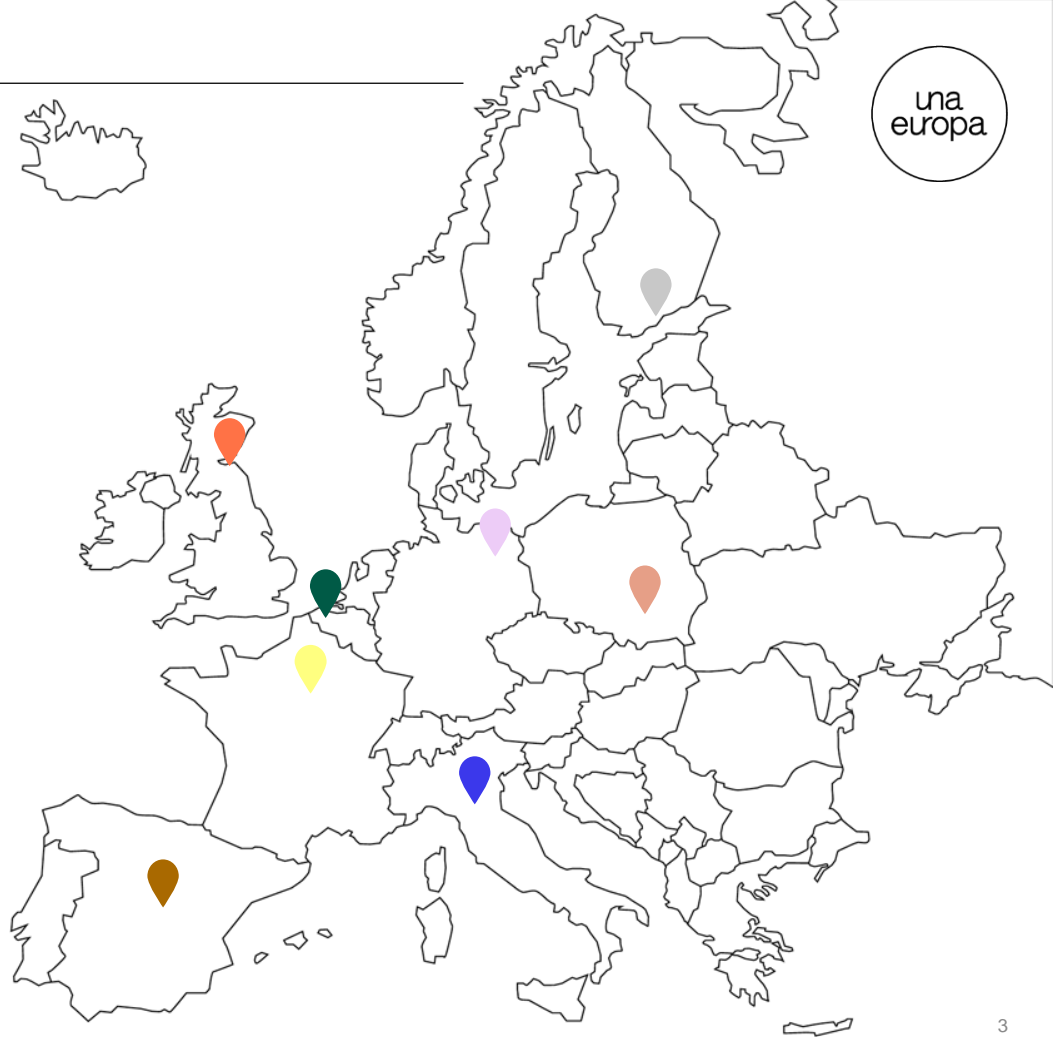

Coimbra Group Open Session, 10 June

*Prof Peter Mathieson, Principal and Vice Chancellor,
The University of Edinburgh & Una Europa*

- + Freie Universität Berlin
- + Università di Bologna
- + University of Edinburgh
- + Helsingin Yliopisto
- + Uniwersytet Jagielloński
w Krakowie
- + KU Leuven
- + Universidad Complutense
de Madrid
- + Université Paris 1
Panthéon-Sorbonne

Our mission & objectives

To create a truly European inter-university environment, where outstanding research is continuously linked to transnational learning and innovative, critical thinking.

University of the Future:

An inter-university environment as a continent-wide laboratory for collaboration in education, research and innovation.

Graduates for the Future:

An interdisciplinary, transnational and inclusive education, supporting future European citizens.

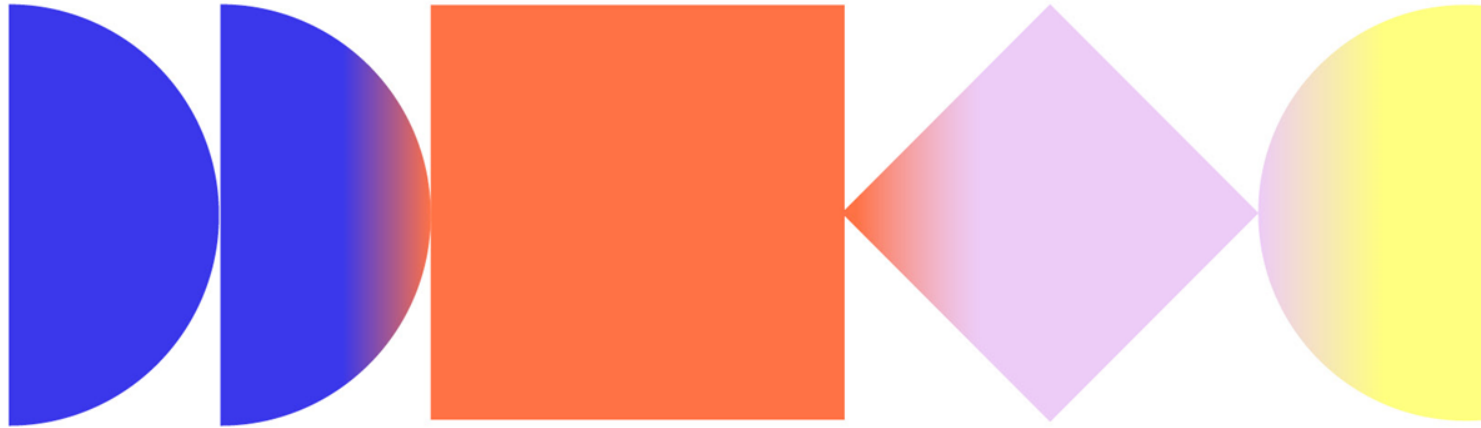

Learning in the Future:

Challenge-based curricula, problem-oriented and (inter)active modules, linking education, research and innovation.

Research, Education, Societal Engagement

How Corona provided even more momentum for our virtual campus

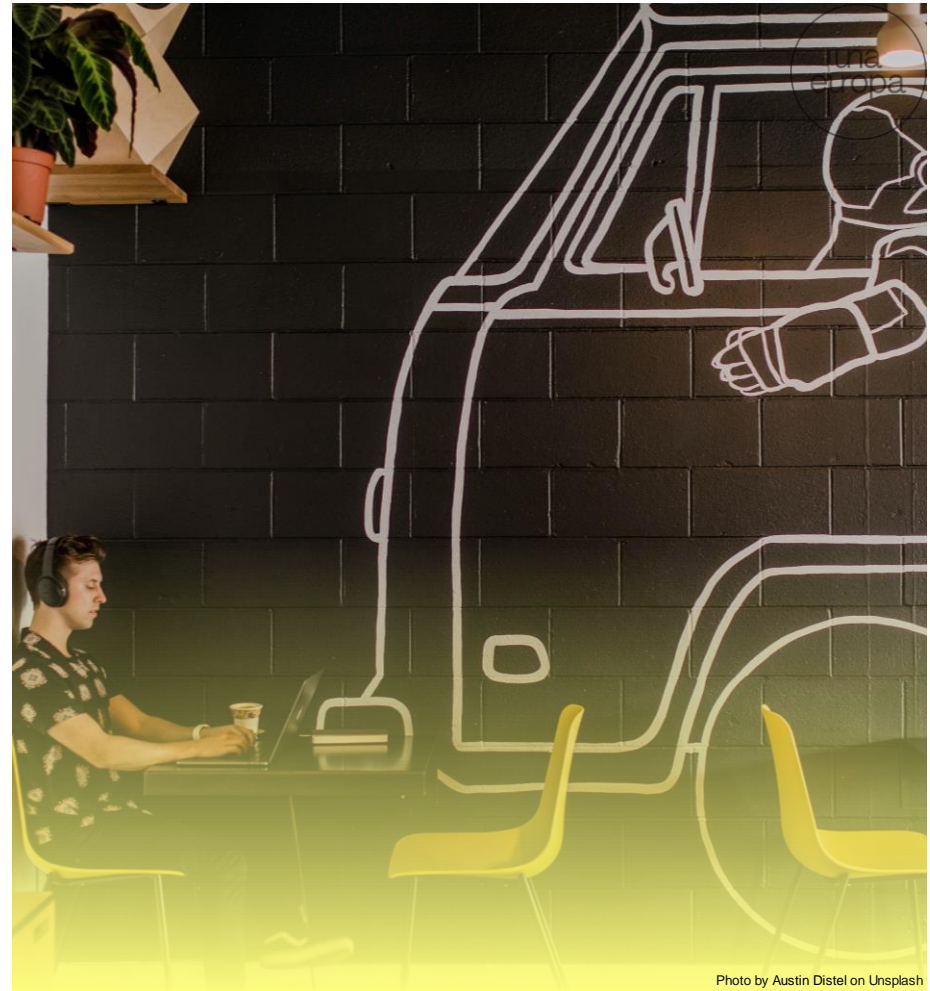

Research

- International Team Science approach due to complexity of challenges
- Pertinent example: One Health

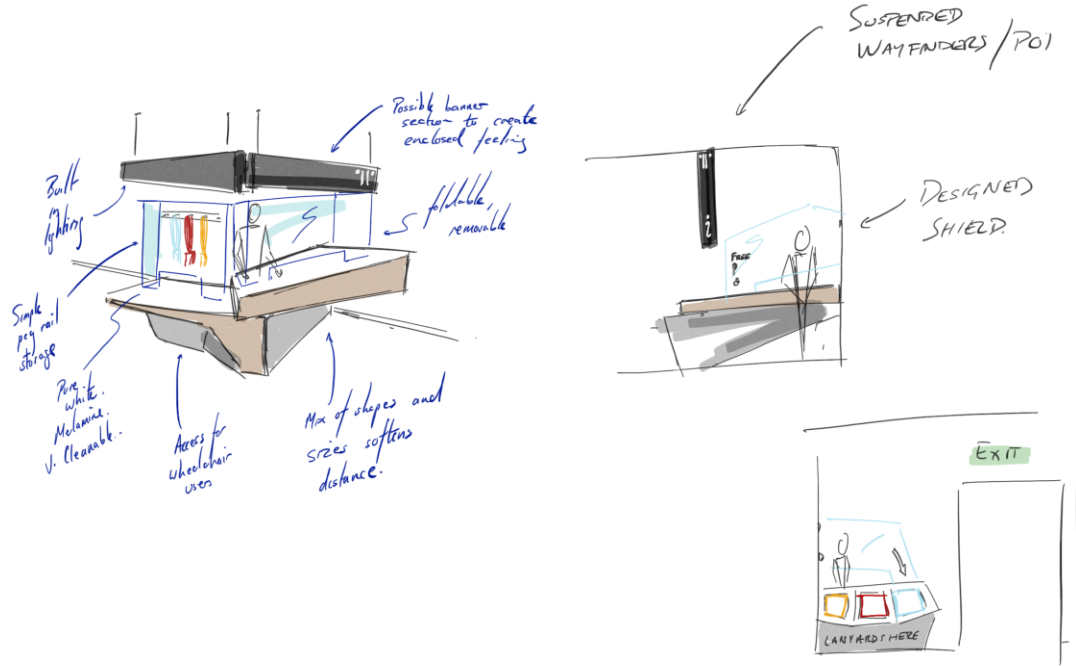

Education

- Additional momentum for virtual campus, turning 'mobility' into 'connectivity'
- Opening up virtual teaching offer to all Una Europa students
- Developing joint teaching units with joint assessment

Societal engagement – UNA.TEN

Key initiatives

Joint Bachelor

Una Europa partners will build fully integrated curricula and jointly award Bachelor degrees in 2 Focus Areas: European Studies and Sustainability.

Micro-credentials at master's level

Una Europa's joint micro-credentials target postgraduate students and professionals. They will be piloted in the field of Sustainability.

Joint Doctorate

In the field of Cultural Heritage, Una Europa will pilot a joint European doctoral title recognized in all the countries where our partners are active.

www.una-europa.eu
@una_europa

Follow us on Social Media

